7. Gary Blankenburg (Photographs by Stephen John Phillips). Adventures of Mr. Electric. Baltimore, MD: Tropos Press, 1990. First edition. [80 pp]. Sextodecimo (15.5cm); white saddle stitched (2 staples) wraps with a duotone photograph on the front cover. 13 duotone photographs throughout text. Very good. $40

An obscure little book full of fascinating and bizarre poems and photographs. The first edition was limited to 500 copies, this copy is inscribed (in the year of its publication) on the title page by Gary Blankenburg to renowned poet and author James Dickey (author of Deliverance, The Zodiac, etc.), making an interesting association. Inscription reads: "To James Dickey from Gary Blankenburg 10/21/90".

8. Jerry Ratch. Lenin's Paintings. Los Angeles, CA: Illuminati, 1987. First edition. 3.5" x 9.5" [20 pp.]; in black card wrappers, sewn. Red paper dust jacket with abstract painted cover illustration. Limited to 225 copies. Some bumping to top edges of the jacket. Near fine in very good dust jacket. $50

An interesting and uncommon little book. A single surreal short story that unfolds in ten paragraphs involving Lenin, his jewelry and paintings, a bunch of cats, and a confused narrator stuck in the middle of it all.

9. D.A Levy. Kibbutz in the Sky (Samisdat, Volume XVII, #4). Richford, VT: Samisdat, 1974. Second edition. 16pp. Octavo (21.5 cm); saddle-stitched (2 staples) yellow wraps showing some light rubbing. Red printed illustration on front cover, red text printed throughout. Near fine, with only minor rubbing to rear cover. $75

Epigram (from Friedrich Nietzsche) appropriately reads: "Of all writings I love only that which is written with blood." D.A. Levy (1942-1968), a modern-day poete maudit, committed suicide at age 26. He was a Cleveland-based publisher and writer, Jewish by birth with eventual Buddhist leanings; a contemporary of the well-known writers and artists of the Beat Generation. This work is comprised of D.A. Levy's poetic lamentations regarding various frustrations and run-ins with the law. Samisdat, Volume XVII, #4 (67th release), text reprinted from T.L. Kryss' 1967 anthology, "UKANHAVYRFUCKINCITIBAK".

10. John Dufresne. I Will Eat a Piece of the Roof and You Can Eat the Window. [Stockholm, WI]: Midnight Paper Sales, 1999. First edition. 11 cm by 17 cm. Patterned paper over boards, paper paste down with title to front board and smaller paste down to spine with author's name. This is one of an edition limited to 220 copies signed by both the writer, John Dufresne, and the artist/printer, Gaylord Schanilec. Fine in a near fine slipcase. $120

12. Bill Nace. Drawings Winter 2005. Published by the author, 2005. First edition. Miniature book. 3.25" X 3.25". Accordion-style foldout book, with 12 panels between brown pictorial letterpressed boards. Signed by artist on the first panel (ffep). Limited Edition. 1/200. $15

Surreal and nebulous ink sketches from the renowned guitarist who has worked with artists such as Thurston Moore and Daniel Higgs. Figures of the alien, amoebic, and aquatic dimensions float across the page in dream-like succession, inhabiting a nether region that is both familiar and disquieting. Unfold the book completely for a more linear glimpse of this evolutionary-existential debacle. "The teeth always go down."

13. Peter & Donna Thomas. Train Depots. Santa Cruz, CA: Peter & Donna Thomas, 2008. 1/85. [38pp] Miniature book. [5.5 cm] Full black leather covers with a small blue board label that is inset on the front panel with the title stamped in red. Fine. $80

22. Mark Ryden. The Snow Yak Show: Microportfolio 6. Lightpoint Press, 2009. First edition. ISBN: 9780867197334. A collection of seventeen 5" X 7" postcards of works originally shown in Ryden's February 2009 show at the Tomio Koyama Gallery in Tokyo. In flexible card portfolio wraps. The portfolio and cards are a bit convex. Very good. $45

From the Publisher: "Traverse Mark Ryden's vast wintry landscapes into the frigid domain of the majestic Snow Yak, gracefully depicted within this set of 17 postcards from Ryden's acclaimed Japanese Snow Yak Show. The works were originally shown at the prestigious Tomio Koyama Gallery in Tokyo in February 2009."

Mark Ryden came to preeminence in the 1990s. With his masterful technique and disquieting content, he became a leader in the revitalization of painting, combining accessibility, craftsmanship and technique with socio-cultural relevance and emotional resonance. His work has been exhibited in museums and finer galleries worldwide."
